If you're interested in combining a passion for the arts with business savvy and hands-on experience, the ARTS MANAGEMENT PROGRAM is for you!

Get started by enrolling in ARMG 105, or setting up an appointment with Dr. Ursula Kuhar, Director of Arts Management:

ARMG 105, Introduction to Arts Organizations (4 credits, IIIW), is offered each Fall semester and provides students with a taste of the variety of topics they will encounter including structure of markets in various branches of the arts, policy and management in the arts, and issues facing today’s and future arts managers. It combines classroom lectures, current events, guest speakers, case studies, student presentations, attendance at arts events, as well as hands-on projects.

The Arts Management certificate is offered to accompany majors in art history, dance, theatre, studio art, music, anthropology, archaeology, business, history, modern languages and literature, and classical studies.

In the past, students majoring in economics, government and biology have also taken the arts management certificate, and we welcome students from all disciplines!

For students interested in performing arts organizations, museums, historic properties, art galleries, and other cultural institutions, the Arts Management Program provides beneficial instruction for career preparation and leadership training, as well as methods and theory of arts management. Topics covered in the curriculum include:

- Arts and Cultural Programming
- Fundraising and Development
- Grant Writing
- Audience Development
- Volunteer and Board Relations
- Special Events
- Executive Leadership in the Arts
- Arts Education, Outreach, and Community Engagement
- Public Relations and Arts Marketing
- Ethics and Arts Policy

Great emphasis is placed on field experiences such as internships, which the faculty help arrange with the support of Career Services. Past student internships placements have included:

- The National Gallery of Art
- Baltimore Symphony Orchestra
- Contemporary American Theater Company
- Pacific School of Dance
- Sotheby’s
- Christie’s
- Center Stage
- American Dance Festival
- Atlanta Opera Company
- National Endowment for the Arts
- Virginia Museum of Fine Arts
